

Homeschooling—A Revival Movement

Zan Tyler

1. Why does it matter that homeschooling is a revival movement?
(The answer is exciting and has implications for you as a homeschooling mom or dad on a daily basis.)

2. Who says homeschooling is a revival movement?
(Hear from two preachers, a successful journalist, and Jonathan Edwards.)

3. What is God's vision for you and your homeschooling?
You will be encouraged by this answer!

4. Has the Bible been "lost" in our culture?
It was lost when Josiah was king of Judah in the Old Testament. When he found God's Word, God brought in revival and amazing things happened!

5. Our American Founding Fathers left us a godly heritage—find out how Harvard weighed in. Unbelievable!

We have lost that heritage over the years. What is our hope for recovering it?

6. Why is attendance at Historic Williamsburg suffering? Why does that impact our entire culture?

6. As homeschooling parents, we have enemies. Who are they and what do they want?

7. Homeschooling is not only a blessing for our children—it is a blessing for the culture. How?

8. What is the missing jewel in today's culture—and what does that have to do with homeschooling?

9. Do you know the first two verses of "My Country 'Tis of Thee?" Why are we in danger of losing sight of the prayer in verse 2? Where is our hope?
